FRENCH FESTIVAL in SANTA BARBARA

32ND ANNUAL FRENCH FESTIVAL IN SANTA BARBARA

Join us on Bastille Day Weekend at the largest French Festival in the western United States! On a sunny weekend in July, Santa Barbara's Oak Park is transformed into what looks like Mont-Marte or Provence. The day starts with a scenic drive north along the coast to Santa Barbara. On the way to the festival, you'll be treated to a French-style continental breakfast, specially prepared by Boudin's Bakery. When you arrive in Santa Barbara, the day is yours to enjoy at the 32nd Annual French Festival. Smiling people dine at sidewalk cafés with checkered tablecloths and umbrellas. Starry-eyed couples toast each other with wine. Artists wearing berets paint at their easels. The air is filled with music, laughter, and the tempting aromas of French cuisine. Non-stop free entertainment fills three stages, including cancan, belly dancers, grand opera, the Femmes Fatales Drag Review, folkdance, African drumming and dance, and cabaret music. Wandering mimes, jugglers, and accordion players perform throughout the crowd. Dozens of chefs prepare fine French food ... everything from crêpes to quiche, from café au lait to decadent desserts and pastries. Enjoy Perrier, French beer, wine, champagne, and soft drinks. And there's even the famous Poodle Parade.
